Hello Musical Families,

Last week's rehearsal saw all the cast who are in Act 2 come along to rehearsals. Thank you to everybody for checking who that was and turning up - or having the day off!

We got through a lot of the Act and it was very pleasing to Mr Dean and I to see how many children knew their lines, so we could then really work on the acting and staging.

I am looking forward to the two days in the holidays in order to see the whole play run from beginning to end. All the cast are asked to be at rehearsals on Monday the 3rd and Tuesday the 4th of July (in the third and final week of the holidays) from 8.30am – 2.30pm.

Tomorrow we see everybody back together again to continue on dancing. At 4:30pm Mr Dean will work on some improvisation with you - in the unlikely event that anything will go wrong on the night! I will look forward to meeting the parents to discuss props and costumes at 4.30pm tomorrow in the Hub.

I was very proud of the children at the Fair, they performed brilliantly and did everything that I had asked of them. I have had many comments that if the opening number was anything to go by, then we will be in for a great show.

A special mention this week goes to Daniel Fortey, who made Mr Dean and I laugh out loud, Katelyn Hussin, Olivia Jansen, Romy Kirn, Joe Strachan, Abbie Tremlett and Ben Watts.

Thanks again for your support.

Warm regards,

Heather
